is possible that the average woman in-looking at the pictures or reading descriptions of house dresses is inclined to think that, they are very elaborate, and she cannot compass the making of one. And it is just here she makes her mistake. The simplest of all designs, the princess, may; if it is properly fitted, have banging face sleeves added to it have knots of ribbon here and a bit of trimming there, butil it rivals in magnificence a house gown which is much

An Art Which Every Man Will Be Prof. cient in if the Rules Are Followed,

To be a good curver is to possess a very desirable accomplishment. Of course if the head of the family is one of the sterner sex it is his duty to preside at the head of the table where the joint is placed. But in case of an emergency the lady of the house may be called upon to do the carving, and if unskilled in the art how awkward the situation becomes! To carve with case and dispatch it is essential that one should be provided with sharp carving knives, which vary pose for which they are intended. either rib or arlain, or a piece of corned beef, like the round or rump, a long, slim blade somewhat pointed toward
